Unless a higher rate of interest than two per cent can be secured on county deposits in the banks of Rock county, the money will be placed in banks outside of the county. This is the opinion which seemed to prevail among the majority of the county supervisors today. For many years the funds have been distributed among all the banks of the county, each paying interest at the rate of two per cent the banks of the county, each paying interest at the rate of two per cent. Bankers claim that this is as much as they can pay.

The matter was scheduled to come up again for definite action by the supervisors this afternoon. The outcome is awaited with interest. The same matter was brought up at the January meetings last year and after considerable squabbling it was voted to let the money be distributed for another year at the old rate of two per cent. A hot discussion was expected this afternoon.

It now appears probable that no action will be taken on the county tuberculosis samirorium until the spring meeting of the board. The other important question, that of hiring a court bahiff for the city of Beloit will also go over to the next meeting as the result of a vote taken this morning.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—With the elections to the national assembly less than four days off the bourgeois parties are bending every effort to rally both male and female voters in a gigantic protest against Bolshevism.

Two weeks ago the indications pointed to a comfortable majority for the social democrats with the aid of the votes of both the Scheidemann and the Haase party. The Spartacan ebullition in Berlin, however, has brought about a revision of the election estimates, the revised view being strengthened by the results of the local elections in Bavaria, Baden, Wurttemberg and elsewhere. supreme inter-allied council decided mates, the revised view being state thened by the results of the local elections in Bavaria, Baden, Wurttemberg and elsewhere.

Rudicals Strength Wanes.

It is now considered highly doubtful if the radicals jointly poll more than 45 per cent of the total vote with the chances that it may be a considerably less percentage. The bourgeoit German democratic party, according to the estimates, is likely to poll 15 per cent of the vote and possibly more. The clericals and conservatives are being allowed 30 per cent in the figuring while the former national liberals may secure a scant ten per cent.

The women of Berlin are carrying on an active campaign. They are keenly alive to the issues involved and appear to be taking to their new franchise privilege with a spirit of understanding. Their votes probably will be cast in overwhelming preponderance in favor of the socialist and bourgeois democratic tickets.

Partics Chose Names.

The former conservatives are entering the contest as the German national party while the clericals have been remained the christian people's party. The national liberals are returning with the label of German peoples party, while the former progressives, national liberals are rallying around the German democrat parties banner. The independent socialist enter the elections in a badly disorganized condition, while the Scheldemann party or majority socialists has unquestionably heen solidified during the past ten days. Want Access to Conterence.

British correspondents adopted resolutions asking that one British press representative be admitted to sittings of the congress. American correspondents also adopted resolutions declaring they would be satisfied with nothing less than free access to all declaring they would be satisfied with nothing less than free access to all deliberations.

These resolutions were brought before a meeting at which were present representatives of the press from all the nations associated in the war against Germany. A committee was appointed to report a plan of reporting the deliberations which will be presented to the peace delegates tomorrow. The proposition to make details of the meeting of correspondents secret was rejected.

Russian Question Important.

Paris, Jan. 17.—The question of Russia continues to be one of the most important before the supreme council of the peace conference. The problem at present principally concerns how and when she shall be represented. The pooling of the information in possession of the various powers is expected to lead to the clearing up of the situation to some extent.

The separate representation given the British colonies in the peace conference having unfavorably impressed the French colonial world, the Havas agency has basued a note pointing out that by reason of the interchange ability of the delegates the French government can, when necessary, call in specially qualified plenipotentiaries and that thus the different colonial problems will be discussed with all the necessary safeguards.

"The western states," she said, "and the midwest are stripped of their workers, and these women should be returned to their homes, where broadened by experience, they could do useful work in their communities."

In touching on affairs in Janesville, she emphasized the fact that women were learning through organization to do effective work. She spoke of the work of the City Foderation in maintaining a rest room, and said that the time was coming when new things must be attempted.

The Brotherhood of the Methodist Episcopal church of Janesville, Wis., representing more than ninety men, at a banquet held Jan. 15, 1919, beg loave to express itself concerning the action of our representative in the assembly of Wisconsin, the Hon. Thos. S. Nolan. It is reported that he offered a resolution in the assembly of Wisconsin asking that the ratification of the prohibition question now befered a resolution in the assembly of Wisconsin asking that the ratification of the prohibition question now before our legislature be postponed until after the people of the state have had an opportunity to vote on the subject at the spring election. To say that we feel humiliated and deeply chagrined is to put it very mildly. We think this action is inexcusable at a time when thirty-four states have already ratified the constitutional amendment and it requires only two more states to complete the work that will make the United States dry. We feel that all legal questions and the rights of the people have been carefully guarded by the congress of the United States and of the several thirty-four states that have already ratified, so there may be no fear of this legislature surrendering any rights to the federal government that will not be for the interests of the whole people. We feel that the attitude of Mr. Nolan is not in keeping with this assembly district. We feel that to put this matter off until the spring election, when the matter will have been settled by enough other states, would put Wisconsin in a sorry plight and would make the people of this great progressive state the laughing stock of the world. Therefore we condemn most heartlly the action of our assemblyman.

fanesville should rejoice in the announcement which was made Thursday that a new high school will be bullt in the near future. It should rejoice, not only because it will have a building adequate to accommodate present enrollment, as well as addi-tional pupils who will come as the city grows, but because this is the first definite indication that this municipality is ready to keep pace with the industrial development which is gathering momentum each day.

The spirit which marked the meet-ing of the school board, city council, ocation school board and directors of the chamber of commerce was such as to give encouragement to the men who have gotten behind the move-ment for a "Bigger and Better Janes-

There was not a dissenting voice against the proposition, and the optimistic manner in which those who presented the subject gives assurance that this first step will pay the way for other projects which the city

With the Janesville Housing Corwith the Janesville Housing Cor-poration making headway in its cam-paign to raise $300,000 to be used in the erection of homes for working-men under a plan which will give the most for their investment, the city aiready has taken long strides in the direction of future planning.

The action of the gentlemen who agreed to the erection of a high school will not only encourage the edicials of the industrial concerns that are already on the ground, but will serve to influence others to consider Janesville as a desirable location for their plants.

Now that the good work is started, let us all get behind every good pro-

THE CHIEF OF POLICE.

Rumors have been scattered about the streets for the last few weeks concorning a change in the office of the chief of police. It is said that Chief Champion, present, incumbent, does not feel that the salary of $1,300 a year is sufficient, and that he would prefer to go back to the force rather than continue to assume the responsibillties of the department at that figure.

Chief Champion has made a good record, considering the handicap under which he has worked, and should be given an opportunity to prove his

be given an opportunity to prove his ability.

If the fire and police commission intends to make a change in the office of the chief of police, get a man who can develop a force which will cope with the problems which confronts a city which is going to change from a peaceful business mart/taking what comes of it, to a bustling industrial center in which all classes of people will mingle.

Cet a man who knows the police of people will mingle.

Clet a man who knows the police business. An organizer who will comand the respect of his subordinates. man who will enforce discipline in the ranks and get the greatest effi-ciency from the guardians of the law. The Janesville police department has been run along haphazard lines for many years. Chief Champion admits it and declares it has been the result of lack of co-operation on the part of those who have the power to stand back of him. He recently stated where the patrolmen were while they were on duty. He said he had no way of getting into communication with them except through a system of lights which flash when the policemen are wasted and which are not seen if the policeman is looking the

NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

Enough states have ratified an amondment to the constitution of the United States to assure national propedition in 1913-14; his vessel was biblion for an indefinite period. hibition for an indefinite period. What the effect will be upon mankind watched with great interest.

It is an experiment that invites opinions from many sides. Whether this is the proper way to build a more efficient and healthy race is a question which can only be answered by time. The United States is the greatest English specific. time. The United States is the greatest English speaking nation in size and population which has made the effort to control the personal habits of its citizens by a mandate so farreaching and iron-glad as the amendment to the constitution which becomes effective one year after congress takes final action.

One thing is certain. Today's standard of efficiency in industry and husiness demands that a man must be clear-headed, temperate and safe He must be robust in body and mind. It has been proven that the man who uses liquor to excess cannot measure up to those standards. The employ ers of labor have gradually gotten away from the man who drinks. Big concerns will not employ men whom they know to be drinkers.

Viowing the future as regards prohibition from a purely economical po-sition, it would seem that the United States is going to be a more efficient. more prosperous country than ever.
It is true that many thousands who have worked at the business of makon to f work temperarily, but it has been proven in states and communities which have gone dry, that the men who dealt in alcoholic drinks have found better places than they left and were more satisfied with their situations in life.

The Janesville Gazette One would be led to believe that Kalser Bill has a press agent If it wasn't hard to imagine eyen a press agent would not stoop to such a de-grading position. Now it is claimed that Hohenzollern has contracted that Hohenzellern has contracted chills from chopping wood. Perhaps another diagnosis would show that it was from chopping women and chilwas from chopping women and children in Belgium.

JANESVILJÆ MUSŤ BE READY. With the assurance that the United States is going dry, Janesville is confronted with problems for which plans must be made in the near fuon July 1 to remain closed until the army is demobilized. Under the federal amendment, liquor cannot be sold or manufactured in this country beginning one year after congress takes final action on the measure.

Little concern is felt over the prospect of 40 buildings which now house Not from any manufactured in this country beginning one year after congress takes final action on the measure.

Who performs the heaviest labors. Under presidential proglamation, about 40 saloons will close their doors pect of 40 buildings which now house saloons being vacant because Janesville is going to increase in population and these places will be needed for other businesses.

However, the big problem is to furnish a place where the man who has patronized the saloon may find recrea-

Janesville will have to follow the example of other cities which have voted out saloons, and create diversion for this class. An effort should be made at once to establish a place where the man who works all day in the factory can go and spend an evening; a place where he can meet his fellow workers; where he can read the current periodicals or indulge in clean, wholesome amusement.

Janesville will have to have an amusement park where the man who works can take his family in summer and spend his holidays. This park should have playgrounds for the children; a baseball diamond for the boys and other recreational devices which will aid in building and maintaining a healthy citizenship./

A suitable site for such a park can be had where a zoo could be established, thus affording amusement and educational advantages which can only be had through such an institu-

July fist is only five months away The problem stands right out in front of us and it is necessary to take immediate steps to meet the change which is coming.

It is a custom among the devout residents of Beluchistan to feave their shoes outside when, they enter a house of worship. This causes the habit of trying to beat one's neighbor to the street. The last man out walks figme on some one else's uppers.

Not only has booze been given a knockout in the United States, but what was left of its reputation has been shattered. In Chicago it was found, that two men filled with liquor had the influenza. Thus the theory that "red eye" was a preventive is attacked. tacked.

Get 7 Per Cent for YOUR Money

We are selling "across the counter" direct to Milwaukee and Wisconsin people an issue of $3,600,000 of 7%, 5-year, bond-secured Gola Notes of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company. More than a million dollars' worth of the Notes have been bought in the first 30 days, mostly by Milwaukee people who know the Company and the property.

Issuance and sale of these Notes was authorized by the Wisconsin' Railroad Commission to finance the growth of greater Milwaukee's electric service system.

Principal of the Notes will be repaid in cash Nov. 1, 1923.

These Notes are on sale in $50, $100, $500 and $1,000-sizes. They sell at par. Your Notes start drawing 7% interest for you from the day you buy them. You draw interest twice a year —May 1 and Nov. 1—by simply cutting off your interest coupon, taking it to the nearest bank, and getting cash for it. These Notes are readily sale able in case of need.

`Milwaukee is as solidly prosperous as any city in the world. This Company supplies virtually all of Milwaukee's electric power, light, heat and transportation services. The State-appraised value of the property back of the Notes exceeds funded debt by over $16,000,000. The State rate regulation law assures a reasonableyearly return on State-appraised value. Besides being a general obligation of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company, these Notes are further secured by deposit of $4,500,000 of 40-year bonds of the Milwaukee Light, Heat & Traction Company with the First Trust Company of Milwaukee as Trustee for the Note buyers. These Companies, thus joint guarantors of these Notes, during their twenty-two years in business have never failed to pay on the due date every dollar of their obligations, with interest as agreed.

Is YOUR MONEY earning 7% with equal SAFETY? If not, we shall be glad to sell you some of these Notes.

Janesville buyers are asked to order direct from the company. Address: SECURITIES DEPARTMENT, Public Service Building, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. You can send payment with order, or, if you wish it, we will deliver the Notes in care of your home bank, C. O. D. If your home banker advises you not to buy these Notes, and tries to sell you something else paying a lower interest rate, you can tell him the Milwaukee banks have bought hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of these Notes, for themselves and their customers.

A Quart a Day For Every Child and Grown Folks, Too

MILK IS NOURISHING Milk contains all the ingredients for nourishment, greatents for nourishment, in just the right proportion of a well-balanced ration. It builds up the body, keeps it in repair, warm, furnishes it with energy; contains all the required elements for growth and maintenance. Wilk is an assential article Milk is an essential article of food. It gratifies the palate, satisfies thirst and hunger and produces no untoward effects. One quart of milk is equal in food value to any one of the following:

3 lbs. fresh codfish; 2 lbs. of salt codfish; 34 llb. of lean round beef: 4-5 lb. of pork chops, PROF. ROSENAU.

Harvard University. MILK IS CHEAP Taking into consideration the many important factors which increase the value of milk as food, and also the fact that it requires no preparation and has no waste, it is believed to be true economy to make liberal use of milk in the diet so long as the milk does not cost more than twice as much in proportion to the energy it furnishes to the average of the food eaten.= Those who are able to spend 30 to 50 cents per person per day for food are practicing true economy when they buy and use liberally the best milk obtainable, even at a price of 20 to 25 cents per quart. PROF SHERMAN.

Columbia University.

Be sure to give your children plenty of good milk. They need it more than any other food. To be sparing with milk is not only false economy, but may have serious consequences in the development and growth of the bodies and minds of your children.

Notices Furnished By The Theaters.

"Infatuation."

"Infatuation" will be shown at the Apollo theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It marks an era, in picture making, for elaborate settings and beauty of investiture and costuming. The gowns and hats worn by Gaby Deslys are creations over which the women folk will debate for long days after. But the story itself is one of deep feeling, and, although the entire action is laid in Paris, it has universal appeal in its sympathetic interest, presenting no marked foreign characteristics and possessing the emotional charm, the elemental vote which touches the heart of the entire world.

Tales of the

Now you remember in the last story that Uncle Lucky was dreadfully puzzled over what old Prof. Crow had just read out of his little black book. And while the old gentleman rabbit was scratching his ear and trying to think just what it really meant something happened, all of a sudden, just like that. Yes, sir. That's the way things happen. And what it was I'll tell you if the Miller's Boy doesn't fire off his gun before I get a chance, there stood the Miller's Boy not ten feet away. Well, man, and well, sir. That old black crow shut up his book so quickly that he almost fell out of the tree, and the little rabbits hopped out of the Luckymobile head over tail and hid in a hollow stump. And then he laughed so hard that he dropped his gun on a stone and broke it all to smithercens. Wasn't that a shame? I mean, wasn't that lucky for the two little rabbits and the old crow? "Gosh all hemiocks," said the Miller's Boy. "Now I've gone and done it," and he pleked up the broken gun and looked dreadfully angry, for he knew his father would give him Hall Columbia and maybe something worse when he got home.

And then away off in the Friendly Forest old Prof. Crow began to sing, and you know what an awful sound a crow makes when he tries to sing:

erow makes when he tries to sing:

"Guns are dangerous things for boys, You can't play with them like toys. Nor have you the slightest right To fill us little folks with fright. Get your hoe and go to work, You lazy boy who loves to shirk."

A number of shadowy men and women wavered against the searing glare of the gasoline.

They arrived at last at a hospital. Daphne was lifted out and delivered into the possession of two curt young internes. She was stretched on a litter, carried feet foremost into an elevator, down a corridor to a room, and rolled out on a bed. Two nurses proceeded to undress her and bathe her. Then an older doctor came in and examined her injuries. She blazed with shame, one complete blush; but to him she was hardly more than a car brought to a garage. He nodded cheerfully and said:

"Not a bone broken, young lady, and no internal derangements that I can discover. A few burns, that's all, and a big shock."

"Is Leila burt much?" Daphne mumbied.

Lella had left no word of her own plans. After a forlorn delay Bayard called for Daphne. She was gone, too, with no word of her return,

At last the telephone rang. A man's roice spoke and explained that it spoke from the hospital.

"Is Mr. Kip there? Is this Mr. Kip? Mr. Bayard Kip? Your wife is here, and your sister, and your friend Wetherell-automobile accident-out here on Long Island-pretty bad smash. Your wife's not very well-better come out-as soon as you can."

The world reeled, Bayard seized his hat, played a tattoo on the elevator bell, darted into the street, yelled at a taxicab with ferocity, got in, ordered was taking in absolving Leila of sus-the driver to "go like heli." He kept picion and loading himself with blame. putting his head out to howl at him. At the hospital he questioned the interne fiercely about Lella and Daphne, and had evasive answers. He did not ask about Wetherell, but the interne volunteered the news that he was dead. That made the ultimate difference. Bayard stopped short in awe, his fore-head cold as if a clammy hand had been laid on it. Death was at work.

Where would he stop?

diplomacy of Internes and led him aside, grumbling: "Say, what you try-ing to do? Kill her? She's weak and her heart's fluttering. Cheer her up if you can. If you can't, you can't stay. Better not stay, anyway."

Bayard apologized cravenly and promised better behavior, and was permitted to steal back to Leila. He took her one undamaged hand; it was as beautiful as the severed hand of a Greek statue, and as marblish white and cold.

The interne led him at length out into the corridor. And now Bayard remembered that he had also a sister. an only sister, in this same tavern of pain. His heart went out to her. He remembered, too, that they had a father and a mother to tell or deceive.

The interne assured him that Daphne's injuries were slight. She looked sad enough when he peered in at her, though she was far from the dreary estate of Lella. She was asleep, but she woke at the sound of his step, and, turning her head with effort, opened her eyes and smiled at him feebly and whispered his name and beckoned to him with one weak Daphne's heart ached out to him she hugged him as hard as her weak arms would let her. She searched her mind for comfort. She could think of nothing so comforting just now as a hearty, reassuring lie. She whispered "It's all my fault, honey. You see Mr. Wetherell was taking me out for a ride. I met Leila. She told me vou nival of stupor and frenzy, while to telephoned you weren't coming home for dinner. She looked so lonely that I asked her to come along and chaperon us. I'm to blame for it all. Can you ever forgive me?"

He was so grateful, so eager to be deceived, that he forgot her state and clenched her hand hard and kissed it from her. They had succeeded in in gratitude for a priceless boon. The

Pleasant Fields Of Holy Writ

THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

That he was Lord of all was manifest by the very fact that His power showed itself in every kingdom, earth, air, water, man, beast. That He could preserve those who put their trust in Him was shown by the fact that in every instance the Hebrews were exempt from the plagues which fell universally with their full weight upon the Egyptians. * * If one or two plagues had come simultaneously with the demand for Israel's liberation, Pharaoh might have said nonchalantly, "It is a mere coincidence;" but when nine had come in ascending scale as to severity and the veneration in which the objects touched were held, and in each instance the Israelites had been entirely exempt from the universal suffering.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely grease-less), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lether, and cleanes the hair and scale. Cas Engines

Experiments in England with ordinary producer gas as a fuel for internal combustion engines has shown that as the size and power of the engine increase the loss on producer gas diminishes. The fact that oal gas, although of lower calorfic value than gasoline, gives better results, is accounted for by the pressure of the gas in the bag, which delivers this fuel to the engine with little or "back pull."

and run it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage."

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

WISCONSIN OFFICE OFFICE WASHINGTO YOUNG AND YOUNG

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Jan. 17, 1879.—The Janesville Guards have decided to give an entertainment at Lappin's hall, Feb. 7. A squad under Lieut. Newman will give an exhibition drill and there will be other interesting occurrences. A dance will follow in Apollo hall.

Shortly after 7 o'clock last evening there was a lively row on Franklin street, along the wall of Sterns & Baker's drug store. Fists were used freely and tongues more freely. The words were even louder than the blows. Several knockdowns caused the claret to flow and the marks of blood were left on the brick wall.

Otis H. Brand, who has been connected with the Recorder office for some time, has joined with Carley friends."

Case in the purchase of the Beloit Graphic. Mr. Brand is well known here and there are many who wish the young men all the success which there and there are many who will doubtless present a readable sheet and conduct the office in a very creditable and profitable manner. Joy be with then.

The South Bend Tribune contains an item which follows which will be of interest to the many friends of Mrs. Hayward. Arthur Hayward is always good natured, but he was doubly so this morning, and the secret of it came out when it was known that another daughter put in an appearance at his residence yesterday afternoon. Arthur received congratulations with a fatherly dignity which surprised-his friends."

In Defeat After Hot Battle.
Fighting gamely up to the final whistle, the Lakota Cardinals went down to defeat at the hands of the speedy Camp Grunt baskethall five at the amory bast night, coming through on the short end of a 51 to 26 count. Although completely outclassed, the Cards put up a hard battle and kept the soldiers on their toes throughout the match. Forced to play on the defensive during practically the entire game the Cards fought to keep down the score.

fensive during practically the game the cards fought to keep down the score.

The playing of Hemsath, pivot man for the cantonment team, was the feature of the game. The big boy was everywhere and was dead on baskets, counting 12 times. Hemming who opposed him during the first half allowed him use ringers and dropped in one himself. Murphy was pitted against him in the second period and let him have seven counters. Delmore at forward for the soldiers also scored heavily counting six times.

After allowing his man four baskets in the first half Phillips came back strong in the second period and held him scoreless. Hemming played in the stellar role for the cards, caging four baskets and at the same time playing a strong defensive game. Cushing showed up well counting three times.

Hemming's men staged a great comeback in the second half and for a time threatened to even matters up but the spurt was short-lived. The new combination tried in this half worked to hetter advantage. Hemming went to guard with Phillips, Murphy to center, and Tilley and Cushing to the forward positions. Murphy opened the scoring in the second half dropping in two long ones in rapid succession Hemming bounded down the floor and counted once, closely followed by flushing who dropped in one at short range.

From then on it was nothing but Hemsath. Time and again he sneaked down the side of the floor and counted while the locals appeared helpless against hlm. Moffet took Danaghe's place at left guard in the second half. Neither scored.

Although not indicated by the score it was a hotiv contested game and cleanly played. The slipperiness of the floor slowed up the passing somewhat but aside from this the armory proved an ideal basketball court. Five hundred people watched the game. The line-ups and scores:

"I'll never forget the rest. All; that lingers in my memory is the picture of the Gunboat getting up and trying to keep on an even keel. Actually he wore his regimentals threadbare from the continuous bouncing off the floor. The bell saved him. But the Gunner was never the same after that. He was still taking nine and giving a perfect imitation of an office building lift when the referee stepped in and said 'Cease!'

Not Another Step Backward.

It is not strange that surprise amounting to resemment as well as amazement is expressed over Postmaster Ceneral Burleson's scizure of the cables and telephones, which seem to contemplate something radically different from possessional and operation for war purposes only. There is no disposition to hurry Mr. McAdoo or Mr. Burleson in their progress toward a peace basis for radical and telegraphs. 'Cease!'

"And I want to say right now that Dempsey is a GREAT tighter. No counterfeit there. He CAN fight. I asked the Gunner for an opinion afterwards.

VOU can get the best clothes made at peace prices. If you've been war-saving, change to peace-saving.

It isn't that prices generally have gone down; prices may go still higher before they go lower.

But we've marked lower prices on a lot of our fine suits and overcoats; sort of a peace celebration; a chance for men coming home from the camps of war to get civilian clothes economically; a chance for men who have been here all the time to save some money.
